MARCUS KELLERMAN

Great Baritone Who Appeared on Local Chautauqua Last Year Will Give Concert Here for Benefit of Mason County Health League's Automobile Fund.

Marcus Kellerman, the great baritone artist, who pleased such a large audience at the Maysville Chautauqua during the season of 1915, will give a concert in this city on Tuesday, November 21st, for the benefit of the Mason County Health League's automobile fund.

It will be remembered that several months ago it was suggested that a fund be started for the purpose of purchasing the Mason County Health League's Visiting Nurse with an automobile. There was a neat little sum contributed to this fund but the plan seemed to lag and nothing has been done toward increasing the fund for some time.

Through the efforts of Bunker H. C. Sharp, the local League had the opportunity to secure Mr. Kellerman and his company for the above date and they thought this would be a splendid opportunity to again revive the Automobile Fund. Arrangements are now under way to have Mr. Kellerman, together with his violinist and pianist, here on November 21st for the purpose of increasing this fund.

There needs be no argument in favor of the proposition of purchasing this machine for all know that with the assistance of an automobile the Visiting Nurse will be able to make more visits in the city and county and make them more promptly. Mr. Kellerman and his company of artists will indeed proud to know that such a need no introduction of a Maysville fearless man of God will come into her midst and wishes him abundant success in his new field.

Mr. W. A. Munzing, the choir leader, is arranging for special music, and a large chorus choir will sing the old time songs of praise. The officers of the Sunday School are preparing for a large crowd, and the B. Y. P. U. will enter upon their new contest with renewed energy.

A special invitation is extended to all to come and worship.

public in a very few days and all should begin making plans now to attend this entertainment by three of America's greatest artists for the benefit of a good cause.

NEW PASTOR

Of the First Baptist Church Will Be Present Sunday and Preach His First Sermon—Special Program Arranged.

Rev. N. F. Jones, the newly elected pastor of the First Baptist Church, will take charge next Sunday morning. Preparations are being made for a banner Sunday and committees are at work planning programs for the contributed to this fund but the plan seemed to lag and nothing has been done toward increasing the fund for some time.

Rev. Jones is not a stranger to the Maysville people, having held one of the most successful meetings the church has had in many a year; also he was Evangelist for the Bracken Association and pastor of the Lewisburg Church. He has almost a genius for making friends, whether among the educated and refined of the community, or among the less fortunate as to education and social position, and once you come under the charm of his personality and the magic of his conversation is to acknowledge his power and influence. He is an intense Baptist and can tell why and never loses a suitable opportunity to do so. His fidelity to New Testament religion and Baptist faith has been impressed upon the Baptists over a large area and make them more promptly. Mr. Kellerman and his company of artists will indeed proud to know that such a need no introduction of a Maysville fearless man of God will come into her midst and wishes him abundant success in his new field.

Mr. W. A. Munzing, the choir leader, is arranging for special music, and a large chorus choir will sing the old time songs of praise. The officers of the Sunday School are preparing for a large crowd, and the B. Y. P. U. will enter upon their new contest with renewed energy.

A special invitation is extended to all to come and worship.

With the selection of Lexington as the meeting place in September, 1917, announcement of the assignments for the year and the adoption of a resolution expressing hope of working out a plan of unification of the Northern and Southern churches satisfactory to both churches, the annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, closed at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at Nicholasville. Lexington was selected on the invitation of Dr. G. E. Cameron, pastor of the First Methodist Church there, and the conference will be held at his church next year.

Announcement was made also of the retirement of Dr. E. G. B. Mann, presiding elder of the Lexington district, from the editorship of the Central Methodist Advocate, with offices in Lexington. Dr. Mann has sold out his interest in the Advocate to the Rev. W. A. Swift, the other stockholder, and for the past three years assistant editor. ASSOCIATION

Of the Tenth Kentucky Cavalry and The Sixteenth Infantry Will Meet in Beechwood Park Tomorrow—Many Old Soldiers Will Be Present.

The association of the Tenth Kentucky Cavalry and the Sixteenth Infantry will meet in this city in Beechwood Park tomorrow. The members of the association, other old soldiers and the wives and relatives of all will be present. The day will begin at 9 o'clock.

No speaker has been hired for the day. The business of the association will be transacted and the remainder of the day will be spent in regular picnic style. A big dinner will be spread at the noon hour and the afternoon will be spent in telling tales of the war and other reminiscences.

The association has lost two of its valued officers in the past, its vice-president, Mr. E. K. Gault, and its secretary, Mrs. C. C. Degman. These will be filled by election at the business meeting. Several other of the comrades have crossed the great divide during the last year.

It is thought a large number of the old soldiers will be present at the reunion. All are past the seventy mark. Comrades of other regiments will be present and all will be made welcome. It is not known yet whether or not Governor Stanley will allow the old flag of the regiment to be sent to this city but the veterans feel that he will.

Several of the merchants of the city have said that they would decorate tomorrow in honor of the men who once marched under the flag of their country to fight for it. Decorations are used for the dead soldiers and so why not for the living. It is to be hoped that a great number will decorate in honor of the veterans.

ABOUT THE VOTE IN MAINE

The Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., has given out the following statement at its Washington Headquarters

Since sufficient time has elapsed to permit careful analysis of results of the campaign in the state of Maine, several conclusions are irresistible:

First, that national rather than local issues were deemed most important by the voters. Campaign speakers in both parties found they could arouse most interest and evoke most enthusiasm by discussing national affairs, and local questions were dropped early in the canvass.

Second, that voters in Maine considered the tariff the paramount issue. Republican speakers and newspapers took pains to present the facts regarding increased importations of Canadian products that came into competition with Maine products, under the Democratic tariff law, and there was everywhere a manifestation of resentment against the law which placed the Canadian producer first. Toward the end of the campaign the law enacted by Congress raising the wages of part of the railway employees became a more prominent feature of the discussion, but it is evident, nevertheless, that the tariff question influenced more votes and that the people of Maine favor an economic policy that places America first.

Third, that members of the former Progressive party are practically all back in the Republican fold. It was largely upon the tariff issue that the Progressives came back. There has never been any difference between members of the Republican party on the principle of protection. There was a difference as to the amount of protection needed, but it was a difference regarding details, and not regarding the fundamental principle of a tariff for protection. Upon other issues there were also differences, but it is evident that the Progressives deemed these of minor importance.

Fourth, that the voters of Maine were not influenced by the false plea that 'he kept us out of war.' This mainstay of the Democratic campaign has been shattered. It has been perfectly plain to all students of international affairs that when such contiguous countries as Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Spain remained out of the contest, it would be preposterous to assume that the United States would have any difficulty in staying out. Only the grossest kind of blundering could have involved this country. The Democratic leaders thought, however, that they could make the voters believe that by the exercise of rare diplomatic skill the President had 'kept us out of war.' The voters of Maine did not fall for a confidence game so crude as that, and there is no prospect that the plan will be made to work elsewhere.

Fifth, that the voters of Maine were not misled by the 'claim-everything' tactics of the Democratic campaigners. From President Wilson down, the Democratic leaders have been parading a long line of pretended accomplishments and have been ignoring the still longer line of broken promises. It was their expectation that by thus making assertions they could gain credit for supposed accomplishments, and divert attention from their disregard of platform pledges in the past. It did not work. It is evident that the voters know that it was the Aldrich-Vreeland act that saved us from a panic at the time of the outbreak of the war and that the Federal Reserve Act, admittedly unsound in the form in which the administration offered it, was given its meritorious features by Republicans. It is manifest that the voters of Maine recognize the Republican party as the constructive party of the United States, and prefer to trust it with legislative and executive power, rather than continue in office the party that makes promises only to break them and makes claims which have no basis in fact."

A MINORITY PRESIDENT—AND "MINORITY" POLICIES

In a year when nationalism is the dominant issue, we shall do well to consider what a minority Presidential choice, and the sectional administrative policies that have followed it really signify:

In 1856 we were fighting against James Buchanan, whose administration proved so disastrous to the honor of the American people. Our present president more closely resembles Buchanan than any other of our presidents since the birth of the republic. In both, there was the same vacillation, the same lack of courage and manhood under the cover of what both called "watchful waiting." I have sometimes thought that the watchfulness consisted in waiting with eyes shut, and with ears to the ground, to see what action or inaction.

A PRESIDENTIAL HOUR GLASS

"The President is like an hour glass. The longer he watchfully waits the less sand he seems to have."—John F. Stutman, former U. S. Minister to Bolivia.

Our ministerial friends are not slow to inform us that the Lord loves a cheerful giver. And, forsooth, we love a cheerful payer—of subscriptions.

DUTY OF COLLEGE MEN TO WORK FOR HUGHES OUTLINED BY HAMMOND

New York, September 24—John Hays Hammond, President of the National Republican League, gave out a statement today through the Hughes National College League, 511 Fifth Avenue, New York, in which he said that not only is it a duty for college graduates to work actively in the campaign, but a burning outrage if they do not. Enrollments by the tens of thousands have been flowing in to the league from all parts of the country. When the vast enrollment was shown to Mr. Hammond, he said:

"I do not think it is merely advisable or commendable for college men to work in politics. I think it is their highest and most important duty. I have been preaching this before public bodies for the last eight years. If the educated men of this country ignore their own interests and those of the general public to the extent of refraining from taking an active part in political affairs, it is not merely a neglect of an obvious duty, but it is a burning outrage. Every motive of patriotism and self-interest urges them to active participation. It is suicidal for them to deliver the conduct of public affairs entirely into the hands of the uneducated vote. How do they expect the laboring men to vote intelligently if they pay no attention to the matter and make no effort to explain as they see it the right and wrong of legislation and party action. I don't care which side he is on, every college graduate should get out and work."

"I understand that the whole object of the Hughes National College League is to arouse the enthusiasm of the college men and make them work with the regular Republican and Progressive organizations. We want them to work with the National Republican League, and I want to say that there is no public movement of more far-reaching importance than theirs on foot in the United States today."

PROBLEM OF DYES PRACTICALLY SETTLED BY MANUFACTURERS OF THIS COUNTRY

New York, September 24—There is immediate relief in sight against any possible dye famine, in the opinion of Dr. Thomas H. Norton, dye expert of the Department of Commerce in Washington, who is here to attend the fifty-third meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Norton said today he expects within the next six months the United States will be producing enough dyes to meet a normal demand based upon that of the United States in 1913. It is for only the "very special colors" that the United States now is dependent upon European countries, he said. These colors are used in the manufacture of the paper money of the United States and in its postage and revenue stamps.

FARM PAGEANT IS FEATURE OF FAIR

"Romance of Agriculture" to be produced at St. Louis
V. P. Week.

OPENS WITH INDIAN SCENE

And Gosses with Formal Emancipation of Horse and Culmination of the Romance in Era of Power Machinery.

The Romance of Agriculture, a pageant in five episodes depicting the evolution of farm equipment and farm practice from the day of the Indian to the present day, will be a feature of the St. Louis Agricultural Fair, October 2 to 7 (Veiled Prophet Week), according to announcement by John T. Stinson, secretary, who prior to going to St. Louis to assume his present post was secretary of the Missouri State Fair, at Sedalia.

Never before anywhere in the world has so elaborate a portrayal of the progress in agriculture been undertaken, officers of the fair say. A hundred or more actors and actresses, in costume, are announced to take part in the pageant, which is to be of the pantomime type.

Scenario of Agricultural Pageant.

An experienced pageant master is to direct the staging of the pageant, the scenario of which follows:

Episode No. 1—Peaceful pursuits of the native Indian. The annual spring dances and supplications to the good spirit for ample sunshine with showers. Indian braves depart for their hunting grounds. Squaws prepare the ground for crops and plant the seed corn. They shell the corn and grind it in stone mills for daily use. Braves return from their hunt. All take part in a festival of rejoicing.

Episode No. 2—Arrival of the pioneers, who are welcomed by the Indians. New-comers trade for grain and lands. Indians depart for homes in the far west. Crude methods of preparing the land for the crops. Plowing with oxen, cows and horses and by other pioneer methods. Harvesting with sickle, threshing by treading out grain by the ox.

Episode No. 3—Arrival of the first steel plow. Drawn by two horses, it gives great satisfaction and marks the first real step in agricultural progress. The walking cultivator is shown, harvesting with cradle and threshing with flails. The first grain binder. Recreation, Virginia reel.

Episode No. 4—Westward the star of empire and agricultural education wend their way. The progressive young farmer brings home the newest sulky plow, which is followed by a gang plow, riding cultivator, grain binders, and other horse-drawn machinery. The lawn party. Sons and daughters of prosperous farmers welcome the dawn of a new agricultural era.

Emancipation of the Horse.

Episode No. 5—Students return to their homes from the State Agricultural College, in automobiles. They are followed by farm tractors drawing tractor plows, tractor harrow, seeding machines and harvesters. The horse is decorated with floral tributes and is declared emancipated from the slavery to which he has long been subjected. Finale: The romance of agriculture gives way to POWER.

The scenario was written for the occasion by Frank E. Goodwin, chairman of the Agricultural Pageant Committee and superintendent of the Machinery Department. Mr. Goodwin is president of the St. Louis Tractor Farming Association and editor of Farm Machinery-Farm Power.

Some of the most antique plows in the country, including that of Daniel Webster, have been loaned for use in the pageant. Webster's plow, which is about a century old and occupies a place of honor in the museum of the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, is of wood, plated in places with iron. Webster operated it on his farm in Massachusetts.

Dairy Cattle Show to Excel.

Mr. Goodwin is but one of a number of experts whom Mr. Stinson, himself a technical man (former professor of horticulture at the University of Arkansas), has induced to manage departments. Mr. Brundt, assistant to the dean of the State Agricultural College, Columbia, Mo., is superintendent of the Cattle Department of the fair and is planning what the officers of the fair believe will prove one of the finest dairy cattle shows in the history of the country. Four herds of Ayrshire cattle alone have been promised. The other breeds to be exhibited are the Guernsey, the Holstein, and the Jersey.

Good Saddle Horse Show Planned.

A saddle horse show regarded as having more than average merit is being organized by James H. Bright of St. Louis, superintendent of the Horse Department. E. H. Hughes of Columbia, Mo., is serving as superintendent of the Swine and Sheep Department. Henry Meyer of Overland, Mo., is superintendent of the Agricultural Department. The Horticultural Department has as its superintendent Henry C. Irish of St. Louis, president of the Missouri State Horticultural Society, who also is to have charge of the school garden exhibit at the fair. Henry Steinmeyer, of St. Louis, president of a large feed and poultry concern, is superintendent of the Poultry Department. Bert Hoffman of St. Louis is to have charge of the Speed Department and C. J. Bennett of Los Angeles, Cal., is to superintend the automobile races and automobile fashion show.

"We are offering liberal prizes this year, especially in the dairy cattle, sheep and swine and horse departments," said Mr. Stinson.

G. O. P. WOMEN'S SPECIAL

FRANCES A. KELLOR.

The Republican Women's Campaign Committee and the Women's Committee of the Hughes Alliance are sending across the continent in October a Hughes Campaign train to get votes for Hughes. It has changed the slogan so long associated with all women's political activities from "votes for women" to "votes for Hughes," and has placed practical political activity forever above and beyond mere voting.

This is not a suffrage train. It is a Hughes Campaign train. It will carry a dozen or more of America's foremost women writer and speakers and workers, who have been selected as leaders in their fields of work in Americanization, immigration, education, protection of women, probation, and not for what they believe on suffrage.

This train will visit 28 states, as follows: Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey.

Will Bring Men and Women Together Nationally

It will be met in each state by state reception committees who will travel through the state. The meetings will be for both men and women. The local speakers will be men. The meetings will be presided over by men, and the issues presented will be national.

I believe that these women, who are pioneers in the labor and civic work of the country, will dispel once for all the idea skilfully fostered by the Democratic party that it has a monopoly of the social and industrial workers and work of the country; that all women are for Wilson because he has kept us out of war, and that swapping horses in the middle of the stream is bad policy for America.

In getting votes for Hughes this train will serve a larger purpose in America. It will unite the women in national solidarity behind a national issue. It will abolish the last stronghold of sectional spirit and state lines.

It will be financed and managed by women who, by being efficient, are thus putting into practical operation Mr. Hughes' slogan, "America first."

It will offer the women of America the rare opportunity to meet women who have for years been doing work of national significance and who are leaders of thought in America.

It will give women opportunity for political education and experience in the most important states in an election vital to the whole future of America.

Rousing Reception Assured

The train was announced only last week. Already west and east, women are showing practical knowledge of politics, and are joining with great enthusiasm in preparing for the Women's Hughes Campaign Train. It will certainly get a rousing reception. As we go to press, for instance, we learn by telegraph from Minnesota that on the boundary line of the state the train will be boarded by a state committee of ten women. There will be a big demonstration as the train pulls into St. Paul station. This will be followed by a luncheon tendered by the local Hughes Alliance. Then there is to be a meeting at two in the large Palm Room of the St. Paul Hotel, and at five-thirty an automobile parade from St. Paul to Minneapolis. At eight-thirty the biggest meeting in the state occurs, with Governor Burnquist as chairman, Mr. Thornton, as speaker. In Kansas, heads of organizations, club presidents, and associations of every sort telegraph they are working together to make the biggest demonstration ever held in Topeka. Mrs. Arthur Capper, wife of the Governor, will serve on the National Train Committee. Colorado women announce a big woman's club to greet the Women's Hughes Train. The success of the train reception in Nevada is made certain by Mrs. Herbert Humphrey, wife of the Republican National Committeeman. Mrs. George Sutherland and other prominent Utah women are planning to hold meetings in a number of towns. The Western women say they are very eager to hear the Eastern women speak.

Acceptances on the National Train Committee have been received from the following persons: Mrs. Arthur Capper, Topeka, Kan.; Mrs. George Sutherland, Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Herbert C. Humphrey, Reno, Nev.; Mrs. Thruston Ballard, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, New York; Miss Maud Wetmore, Newport, R. I.; Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, New York; Mrs. Geo. H. Partridge, Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. Walter Damrosch, Md.; Mrs. Spencer Penrose, Colorado Springs, Col.; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Gifford Pinchot, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, California, and Mrs. Charles M. Hoffman, Newport, R. I.

FRANCES A. KELLOR.

Cordial endorsement by William R. Wilcox, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, was given today to the Hughes Campaign Train which the Republican Women's Campaign Committee and the Women's Committee of the Hughes Alliance are to send across the continent in October.

"The best thing about it is that it really has for its first object getting votes for Mr. Hughes," said Mr. Wilcox. "Women throughout the country are interested in showing that women's political activity is by no means wholly expressed in the cause of suffrage. This train is not a suffrage train. It is a practical expression of women's political co-operation with men for the election of Mr. Hughes, in a national crisis.

"Besides getting votes for Mr. Hughes, I think the campaign train will serve a large purpose as it goes through the twenty-nine states in its itinerary, carrying a group of national women workers and speakers. It will unite women in national solidarity behind a national issue.

"The train will be financed and managed by women, and the party of speakers will be entirely women."

AS A PARTY PROGRESSIVES ARE EXCLUDED FROM NEW JERSEY PRIMARIES

Trenton, N. J., September 24—Presidential primaries in New Jersey will be held on Tuesday. Republican and Democratic organizations will nominate candidates for United States Senator, Governor, 12 Congressmen and a State Legislature.

The Progressives as a party will not participate in the primaries because the party failed to poll 5 per cent of the total vote in the last election and under the state law are excluded from nominating candidates. Progressive candidates, however, may be placed in the field in the general election by filing petitions with the Secretary of State.

Contests in the Republican ranks for the nomination for United States Senator and Governor and for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator featured the primary campaign. Former Governor Franklin Murphy, of Newark, and former state Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, of Morristown, are the contestants for the primaries as a party will not participate in the primaries because the party failed to poll 5 per cent of the total vote in the last election and under the state law are excluded from nominating candidates. Progressive candidates, however, may be placed in the field in the general election by filing petitions with the Secretary of State.

Interest in the Democratic primary centers in the fight of United States Senator James E. Martine for renomination. Attorney-General John W. Wescott, of Camden, is Senator Martine's principal rival for the nomination.

Cleveland, Ohio, September 24—John D. Rockefeller filled his pockets with pennies before he went to the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church for worship today. As he walked up the steps of the church his pockets bulged with coins. But as he left, an hour or so later, the pockets were empty—that is, as far as the pennies were concerned.

For the world's richest man had handed out pennies right and left to Sunday-school tots. Little Emil Reiff—he's four months old—smiled his thanks when Mr. Rockefeller gave him three pennies and affectionately patted the babe's head.

"Across the span of 60 or more years I'm living again today—the Sunday school days of my youth," he told Emil's parents.

TO START AVIATION CAMP

New York, September 24—That W. Earl Dodge, wealthy sportsman, has decided to establish an aviation camp for training college men in aviation for national defense, and has requested the Aero Club of America to select 16 college men to be trained, beginning November 1, was announced today. The college men will be trained free of charge. Mr. Dodge's aviation training camp is to be established at Jacksonville, Fla., during the winter and will be removed to Long Island in the spring.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mrs. Alry, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

A MEDICINE OF MERIT

The great sale of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all over this land is the result of genuine merit. The reason is that this good old fashioned root and herb medicine actually helps those suffering from the ailments peculiar to women. If it did not, would not the women of America have found it out in forty years, so that few of them would buy?

PACKET SINKS

Reuben Dunbar, Steamer in the Cincinnati-Pomeroy Trade, Struck Snag Just Above Moscow, Ohio
Rescues Made by Chilo.

The packet Reuben Dunbar of the Cincinnati-Pomeroy trade sank yesterday morning about eight o'clock when it struck a snag in the river bed just above Moscow, Ohio, about twenty miles above Cincinnati.

The boat was about 60 hours behind in its scheduled and was running in a heavy fog. It is claimed that where the boat struck the snag there was only about 6 feet of water. Immediately after the accident the boat began to sound the signal of distress and the packet Chilo came to the rescue. All of the passengers and crew and a large amount of the freight was saved.

The Dunbar had only been in the Cincinnati-Pomeroy trade for about a month. The boat was in the Pittsburg-Charleston trade and had been chartered in the place of the Greenland, which is now running between Cincinnati and Louisville. This was the second trip of the boat to Cincinnati. The boat was a stern-wheeler and drew very little water. Preparations will be made to raise the boat if possible before the high water of the winter season arrives.

MAJOR LEAGUE RECORD OF TWENTY GAMES BY PROVIDENCE GRAYS BEATEN BY GIANTS.

New York, September 25—The New York Nationals' double victory over the St. Louis club here this afternoon enabled the Giants to lay claim to a new major league record for consecutive games won in one season. At the completion of the double header the team had won twenty-one straight victories, thus displacing the record of the famous Providence Grays, who won twenty games in a row in 1884.

During the thirty-two years since Providence set the twenty-game record, the figures have been threatened several times by big league clubs, but never equalled or surpassed until today. In 1906, the Chicago American League club won nineteen in a stretch. The New York Giants won eighteen straight in 1904 and seventeen games earlier in the present season.

Several minor league clubs have exceeded these figures, the best records being twenty-seven games by the Coscana club of the Texas League in 1902; twenty-five games by the Charlotte club of the Carolina League in same year, and twenty-four games by the Jersey City Club of the Eastern League in 1903.

In winning twenty-one straight games, the Giants actually figured in twenty-two games because one contest ended in a tie and was eliminated from consideration in computing the winning streak.

In one respect, however, the record does not compare with that of the Providence club, as Pitcher Charley Radbourne twirled the Grays to victory in eighteen out of the twenty games won by his club in the 1884 stretch of conquests.

FALL FROM "BACK FENCE" YEARS AGO RESULTS IN AMNESTIA, SAY SURGEONS

(Cincinnati Enquirer)

Years ago Wilson Lincoln Davidson, Ripley, Ohio, when a boy practicing the age-old art of "walking the back fence," lost his balance and also a fishpole, with which he was desperately endeavoring to maintain it, and fell. Something snapped in his head, but apparently no serious or permanent injury was suffered.

Now Davidson is at the General Hospital, Cincinnati, a victim of amnesia.

Surgeons attending him say his loss of memory undoubtedly is due to that old injury received when he fell from the fence.

An interesting feature of Davidson's case is that, despite that fall years ago, he became an expert walker of tight ropes.
